

25.03.2010

Technology.Tourism.Landscape: Sustainable Snow Production

Friday, April 30th, 2010, 14:00 to 17:00,
 Raum 32, Operngasse 11/4, A-1140 Wien

PROGRAM as of March 25th, 2010

14:00	Registration & Welcome
14:20	The UNESCO snow classification and why it is important for snow production (Sergey Sokratov, Moscow State University)
14:40	More snow with less energy (Michael Bacher, BOKU Wien)
15:00	Sustainable snow production: where renewable energy systems come in (Fred Best, EIS Technologies, Port Talbot, UK)
15:20	The snow of last year: reuse and recycling of snow as compared to snow production (Sven Knutsson, LTU, Sweden) requested to be confirmed.
15:40	Learning from the clouds: the formation of snow in clouds (Irina Melnikova, St. Petersburg State University) requested to be confirmed.
16:00	Can we produce artificial/technical snow sustainable? Discussion on "Declaration of a more sustainable snow production" (http://ttl.tuwien.ac.at/docs/declaration-sustainable-snow-production.pdf) (Moderation M. Breiling, TTL)
16:30	Small buffet for our guests, continuation of discussion

With nice regards,

